

Printing and assembly instructions

You can print the A4 calendar in both colour and black and white version. It is designed in such a way that you add the colours in which ever case, and you colour the calendar as you like it best.

The best way to bind the calendar is spiral binding. Make holes in the spots marked with a grey dot, thread the string through them and hang it on the wall.

As the pages will need to be turned and calendar re-hung each time the months change, you can simplify this process by hanging the calendar on two open clips.

You can also print the last three pages of the calendar separately and use them as posters.

We would be delighted if the calendar would accompany you in the year ahead.
